

Affordable Purchase Dwelling Arrangements Income Assessment Policy¹

1. Background and Purpose of the Affordable Housing Income Assessment Policy

This policy, issued by the Minister for Housing, Local Government and Heritage, sets out the manner in which housing authorities shall assess the income of applicants for the purpose of determining eligibility for an affordable dwelling purchase arrangement under section 10 of the Affordable Housing Act 2021 and Regulation 2 of the Affordable Housing Regulations 2022.

2. Income assessed is gross income

The determination of whether an applicant meets the income criteria in Regulation 2(1) of the Affordable Housing Regulations 2022 is based on a calculation of their preceding 12 months' gross average income prior to the date of receipt of application. The income of all the persons making the application shall be assessed.

3. Income that is assessable in considering applications for affordable dwelling purchase arrangements

Subject to paragraph 4, the following incomes are assessable for the purposes of assessing eligibility for affordable dwelling purchase arrangements:

- a) income from employment including overtime payments, bonuses and commissions, which shall be assessable as follows:
 - (i) overtime: generally restricted to a maximum of 10% of basic income, but regular overtime may be taken into account;
 - (ii) bonus: restricted to a maximum of 10% of basic income;
 - (iii) commission: restricted to a maximum of 30% of basic income, where applicable;
- b) income from self-employment;
- c) maintenance payments received;
- d) income from rental properties, dividends, capital investments and other similar sources of income;

(e) occupational and social welfare pensions, from whatever source, including from sources abroad;

(f) with the exception of the specific payments listed in paragraph 4 being disregarded, all income from social insurance and social assistance payments, allowances and benefits, including Working Family Payment.

Subparagraph (c) and income from rental properties, mentioned in subparagraph (d), are subject to such conditions or criteria as may be set out in guidelines issued by the Minister for Housing, Local Government and Heritage.

4. Income that is not assessable

In assessing the income of applicants for the purposes of this policy, a housing authority may decide to disregard income that is once-off, temporary or short-term in nature and which is outside the regular pattern of a person's annual income.

Income from the following sources shall, in all cases, be disregarded for the purposes of assessing income:
